2024x Version News

In the 2024x version, Alf can now be utilized as a scripting language to write simple expressions (for example, using dot notation) without the need for compilation. These scripts can be employed in Opaque Actions, Opaque Behaviors, Opaque Expressions, State Machine Guards, and even directly in the Simulation Console. Learn more >>>
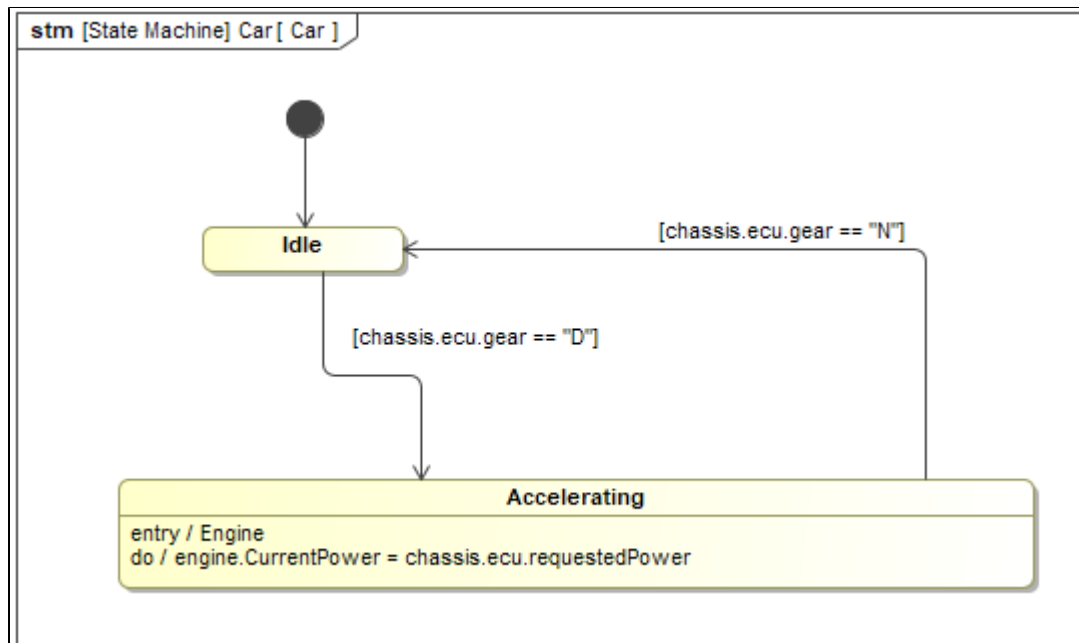

Simple Alf scripts used in State Machine diagram