Composite Structure diagram

The Composite Structure diagram allows a decomposition and modeling of the internal structure of the classifiers, such as classes, components, nodes, and other elements that are able to own other elements.

Related pages

- Creating diagrams
- Composite Structure Diagram context
- Nesting parts that are association ends
- Mapping ports on a Part type change