

Type Modifiers Conversion

In version 12, type modifiers use the $ character to specify the type modifiers construct. This allows mapping of complex type modifiers. For example, `const int* const` is mapped to `const $* const`.