

Getting simulation context

You can use ALH API to get a context or a runtime object of a current script evaluation. It is equivalent to $context$ and self.

```
Object_ getContext()
```

The following code fragment shows how to get a context of a runtime object through ALH API.

```
ALH.getContext();           // Object@...
```