

Starting and Stopping Web Application Platform

On this page

- Starting and stopping Web Application Platform on Linux
- Starting and stopping Web Application Platform on Windows

This chapter explains how to start and stop Web Application Platform as a service. See the sections below to find the instructions applicable to your operating system.

Starting and stopping Web Application Platform on Linux

When using Linux, you can start and stop Web Application Platform as described below.

To start/stop Web Application Platform on Linux

1. Use the terminal to do one of the following:
 - To start Web Application platform, execute one of the following commands:

For systemd system and service manager

```
service webapp start
OR
systemctl start webapp
```

- To stop Web Application platform, execute one of the following commands:

For systemd system and service manager

```
service webapp stop
OR
systemctl stop webapp
```

Web Application Platform is started or stopped depending on which command you execute.

Starting and stopping Web Application Platform on Windows

When using Windows OS, you can start and stop Web Application Platform as described below.

To start/stop Web Application Platform on Windows

1. Open Windows Service Manager.
2. Find the CATIA No Magic WebApp Service and start/stop it.

Related pages

- Installing Web Application Platform on Windows
- Installing Web Application Platform on Linux with GUI
- Using no-installer