Objective Function

An Objective Function (also known as 'optimization' or 'cost function') is used for determining the overall value of an alternative in terms of weighted criteria and/or Moe's.

Related diagrams

- SysML Parametric Diagram