Distributed Property

A Distributed Property is a property of a Block or a Value Type, used to apply a probability distribution to the values of the property. Specific distributions can be defined by applying a subclass of the DistributedProperty stereotype to the property.

Related diagrams

- SysML Internal Block Diagram