Organizing your model

Before modeling your system, we highly recommend you to organize your model structure. The right organization of packages, diagrams, model libraries, and profiles allows you to reuse them easily, ensures quick navigation, control the access, manage configurations, and other.

For more details read the following pages:

Unknown macro: 'list-children'