

Constraints between relationships

You can place XOR constraints (there is also a rarely used OR constraint) between relationships using the corresponding toolbar button. Note that constraints must join relationships having at least one common end, never arbitrary relationships.

Current implementation of constraints does not allow placing a constraint on more than 2 relationships.