

Accept Changes or Reject Changes

The Accept Changes button switches the used project version to the selected one. You will be warned if the selected version will cause or leave unresolved references.

Reject Changes restores the project to the state before invoking the Impact analysis with all of the local changes you had as well. The same applies for X (closing the dialog).