

Data partitioning on Teamwork Server

Data partitioning is the segmentation of a project into multiple independent parts or used projects. Since these used projects are saved using the same file format as regular projects, they can be opened and edited as separate projects. This approach allows easy reuse of the same basic model libraries in multiple projects.

Version of used projects

Please note that, in a server, project versions used on a project commitment (but not the latest used project version) are open.

Related pages

- Project Partitioning
- Creating and Managing Categories
- MOF Support
- Use Server Project Wizard