

What's new in Cameo Requirements Modeler 18.1 FR

Metric Suites for Requirements Coverage Inspection

Two metric suites for requirements coverage are now available. While working with requirements, it is useful to know how many requirements are covered by design elements (with a satisfy relation) and test cases (with a verify relation). These are typical situations where metrics help you to evaluate the current state of requirements in your model and track the progress of their coverage.

