

I'm requested to activate my modeling tool license. What should I do?

Commercial licenses of our products are locked to the particular machine. The activation process allows receiving the commercial license dedicated for the particular machine.

The commercial license activation is needed after the purchase transaction has been completed.

License activation can be completed from the Licence Manager dialog in the application. You may choose online activation and enable commercial licenses activated automatically.

Alternatively, you may select offline activation and then you will be required to enter a Host ID in the license owner account (login to www.nomagic.com and select License Activation Management menu item at the right side of page). You can then download the commercial activated license.
