Profile Application

A profile application is used to show which profiles have been applied to a package.

Specify the Profile Application element, in the Specification dialog.