MDA

The Model Driven Architecture (MDA) approach as defined by the Object Management Group (OMG) "provides an approach for deriving value from models and architecture in support of the full life cycle of physical, organizational and I.T. systems."

Related pages

- Concept modeling purpose
 The role of ontologies and reasoners
 Open-world assumption vs. closed-world assumption
 Information modeling purpose