

Architecture Management

Description

The Architecture Management (Am) domain captures meta-data relevant to the entire architecture. It provides information pertinent to the entire architecture and presents supporting information rather than architectural models.